

FILLED GRANDPARENTING

Unpacking God's Plan for Building Flourishing Families

grace

Friday, February 28 (7-9pm)
Saturday, March 1 (8:30am-noon)

WOODMEN VALLEY CHAPEL/
WOODMEN HEIGHTS CAMPUS

(Woodmen and Marksheffel, Colorado Springs, CO.)

Whether you're a seasoned, new, or expectant grandparent, you want your family to know, love, and serve the Lord and shine as a light for Christ in today's world. This seminar will unpack God's "grand-partnering" design to help both you and your family be that light.

Will you join us for the sake of the next generations?

This seminar will aid you, as family leaders or ministry leaders, in guiding and strengthening both individual families and the greater family of God. Through Bible-based insights into prayer, spoken blessings, and intergenerational collaboration, you will learn ways to bless your own family and also minister as “spiritual grandparents” in the family of God.

Cavin Harper: Woodmen members since 2002, Cavin and Diane have two adult children, nine grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. After founding the Christian Grandparenting Network in 1998 doing GrandCamps™ for grandparents and grade-school age grandchildren, Cavin now serves as President Emeritus at CGN and founder/CEO of ElderQuest Ministries (Engaging the Generations). He is both a national and international speaker, author of four books (Wayfinder, Not on Our Watch, Courageous Grandparenting, and Raising Your Grandchildren), contributing author to various publications, and a blog writer/podcaster.

Sherry Schumann: As President of Christian Grandparenting Network, Sherry has the privilege and joy of helping grandparents share their faith in Jesus with their grandchildren and beyond. She is a frequent speaker and author of three books: The Grand Expedition: A Practical Guide to Praying for Your Grandchildren; Prayers that Stir the Hearts of Grandparents; and The Christmas Bracelet. She and her soulmate, Sammy, live in South Carolina, have been married for more than four decades, and are blessed with three grown sons, three daughters-in-law, and seven adorable grandchildren. Sherry's heart rejoices whenever her home echoes with the sounds of their children's and grandchildren's voices.

Paul and Diana Miller: Woodmen members since 1989, Paul and Diana Miller have unique experiences as university, elementary, and early childhood educators, and Bible teachers to senior adults and children. Their multicultural family includes three adult children and their spouses as well as eleven grandchildren. They have authored A Guide to Great Grandparenting and A Parents' Guide to Great GrandPartnering, and serve as GrandCamps™ Coordinators for the Christian Grandparenting Network.

Mike and Vicki Reuckert: Mike and Vicki boast four adult children, eleven grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren. 2025 will mark their tenth anniversary as founding Directors of Timberline's Grandparent Ministry in Ft. Collins, CO, including leading GrandCamps™ and much more. Following successful professional careers, they retired in Ft. Collins to be close to their seven Colorado grandchildren. God used their careers to prepare them for leadership in creating and growing Timberline's grandparent ministry and assisting other churches wanting to build or enhance their own grandparenting ministries.

Mike and Becky McNamee: Mike and Becky McNamee are the founders of Legacy of Faith, a retreat-based ministry inspiring grandparents to embrace their spiritual legacy while maximizing their generational impact. They live in Colorado Springs where Mike also served for 12 years as General Manager for the Navigator's Glen Eyrie Castle Conference Center. They are blessed with three married children and six grandchildren.
